Colorado Springs Gets Senator and Cripple Creek Dist. Attorney.

THREE REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS

David P. Wilder Named for Dist. Attorney and Col. E. M. De La Vergne for State Senator---Six Members for the Lower House Nominated.

For District Attorney—D. P. Wilder, of Cripple Creek.

For representatives to the general assembly—Count A. Sayre, of Colorado City; Fred L. Sherwin, of Colorado Springs; Clarence P. Dodge, of Colorado Springs; J. McLeod, of Cripple Creek; Frank W. Friswell, of Cripple Creek; William H. Griffith, of Cripple Creek.

The above candidates were placed in nomination by the three Republican conventions held in this city yesterday and complete the ticket as it will be voted on in this county.

The judicial convention was held in the morning, the Senatorial and [illegible] in the afternoon. There was a contest in the judicial convention between Henry Trowbridge and Major Thomas E. McClelland, but Mr. Wilder got the nomination on the first ballot. There were no contests in either of the other conventions, the nominations all being made by acclamation.

D. P. Wilder, of Cripple Creek, was yesterday nominated for district attorney for the Fourth Judicial district of Colorado, comprising Cheyenne, Douglas, Elbert, El Paso, Lincoln, Teller and Fremont counties.

The Republican judicial convention was called to order in the court house by Chairman Jo. Chambers and C. C. Hamlin, of Colorado Springs was elected chairman with Joseph F. Johnson, of Colorado City as secretary, and Duncan Carpenter, of Colorado Springs, assistant secretary.

The convention got down to business quickly and nominations of candidates for district attorney were started. Delegate Griffith, of Cripple Creek, placed the name of Mr. Wilder before the convention in a stirring speech and General Frank Reardon, of Victor, presented the name of Major Thomas E. McClelland.

Called Him a Democrat.

John W. Lilley, of Colorado Springs, presented Henry Trowbridge and his speech was interrupted with cries of "He's a Democrat," "He's a Democrat," but Mr. Lilley, in answering those remarks, declared that Mr. Trowbridge is a Republican and pointing to Mr. Trowbridge he said: "Here is a Republican with sterling principles and a Democrat, Judge Kinley stands and supports him."

Mr. Trowbridge's administration during the recent trouble as being one of the strongest factors for law and order in Teller county.

Teller county [illegible] Wilder and McClelland but the Wilder delegation carried the day. The small counties were for Trowbridge and El Paso gave him 15 votes, but Wilder got the majority from this county.

More Votes Than Necessary.

Balloting was by roll call, each delegate announcing his choice as his name was called. Wilder received four more votes than a majority and General Reardon then made the motion to make the nomination unanimous which carried with a whoop.

Mr. Wilder made a short speech thanking the delegates and stating that upon his election he would inaugurate a policy of equal treatment for all men under the law.

In his speech nominating Thomas McClelland, of Cripple Creek, General Reardon said he desired to emphatically deny that Major McClelland had ever used the words, "To hell with the constitution," which had been attributed to him during the recent Cripple Creek trouble. General Reardon said that the statement that Major McClelland had ever used those words or words to that effect was an infamous lie.

Mr. Trowbridge was then greeted the floor and made a speech [illegible] loudly applauded. He pledged his earnest support to Mr. Wilder both in the campaign and in the way of [illegible] matters of interest being done [illegible] to the district, political [illegible] he stated that Judge Seddon [illegible] and that the [illegible] 30 per cent of the [illegible] of Colorado, [illegible] republican [illegible] and became a [illegible] and will [illegible]

He stated that he had been a part in the [illegible] Cripple Creek, [illegible] republican [illegible] Democrat. He declared [illegible] straight Republican and now [illegible] to find out [illegible] man in whose name [illegible] of Americanism [illegible] to [illegible] than vote for that [illegible] Democrat. He [illegible] Theodore Roosevelt. He [illegible] himself heartily [illegible] with [illegible] Peabody's policy and pledged his support to Peabody and the whole [illegible]

The [illegible] was then made permanent and on motion of C. C. Hamlin a committee on [illegible] was appointed by the chair.

SIX MEMBERS FOR THE LEGISLATURE

The legislative convention was called to order at 2:45 in the afternoon by Judge S. H. Kinsley. Colorado Springs chairman of the committee, Harold D. Thompson, of Cripple Creek, secretary of the committee, read the call after which, on motion of Judge H. C. Lee, W. S. Boynton was elected chairman and on motion of C. W. Dolph, Harold D. Thompson was made secretary. On motion of C. W. Dolph, the temporary organization was made permanent and on motion of C. C. Hamlin a temporary roll call was made permanent.

Nominations for state representatives being in order, J. F. Morgan, of Colorado City, placed the name of Hon. John B. Stephen, of that town, before the convention for renomination. Delegate Turner, of Cripple Creek, nominated J. McLeod for a second term; Judge Ira Harris, nominated C. P. Dodge; Major Thomas E. McClelland, of Cripple Creek, nominated Frank W. Friswell for a second term and William H. Griffith for a first term, both being Cripple Creek candidates; C. C. Hamlin nominated Fred L. Sherwin, of this city.

Each candidate was nominated with a short speech and when the six names were before the convention, W. H. McIntyre moved that the rules be suspended and the nominations be made by acclamation. This motion was seconded by C. W. Dolph and carried unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Hamlin, the senatorial committee was elected the legislative committee for the conduct of the campaign and to fill any vacancies that may occur.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

SECRETARY SHAW LOUDLY CHEERED

Cabinet Officer Delivered Stirring Address Yesterday---An Act of Discourtesy Was Rebuked by Spectators.

Judge F. D. Shoemaker, a local Democrat, provoked the hisses and denunciations of many of the large audience assembled to hear Secretary Shaw. Immediately after Mr. Shaw had finished his speech Judge Shoemaker arose and announced that tomorrow afternoon he would answer the remarks of "the distinguished cabinet officer who has just addressed you." This statement was received with courtesy, but Judge Shoemaker provoked a storm of disapproval by the following statement: "While it would be discourteous for me to say more at this time, I am desirous of saying that when the time comes that a cabinet officer will desert his post of duty for the purpose of traveling over the country and misleading the public——" but here the storm of disapproval interrupted him and not even those standing at his elbows could hear what he tried to say further.

Secretary Shaw jumped up on the bench and waved for silence, which came at the second motion of his hand. He said: "We have heard the announcement of the gentleman. I wish someone in this audience would take a photograph of his audience and send it to me at my expense." And a big laugh and hearty applause followed this remark.

Judge Shoemaker is a local Democrat, but the leaders of that party, many of whom were courteous listeners to Mr. Shaw's address, felt deeply chagrined at Judge Shoemaker's action and did not hesitate to express their disapproval of his discourtesy.

Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury of the United States, discussed political issues, and especially the tariff question, before a throng of some 3,000 interested citizens and visitors at Nevada park yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Shaw was met at the Santa Fe depot by a committee of prominent citizens consisting of C. E. Wood, chairman; Congressman F. E. Brooks, Mr. Shaw was escorted to the Antlers hotel, where the committee spent some little time in conversation. Mr. Brooks and Mr. Shaw retired to leave the party most, the former being en route to Denver to prepare for the state convention there today. The others accompanied Mr. Shaw on a ride through the Garden of the Gods and after the return to the Antlers hotel Mr. Shaw was escorted to the North park by the committee and the Midland band.

After the band had played a selection while the [illegible] around the [illegible] from which Mr. Shaw was to speak, Mr. Wray called the big gathering to order and facetiously apologizing for his [illegible] introduced the man who guards your and my pocketbooks, the honorable secretary of

CUTLER FOOTBALL TEAM WILL RELY ON FAST PLAY

Cutler academy has started practice in earnest, with twenty candidates on the campus for places on this fall's team. Though the boys are expecting a rather light team, they expect to have a fast one. All the candidates have had experience on various teams and there is some good material in sight.

Mahoney, Silver, Bernard and Allen-brand, cyclonic players from Sunny Slope Stockmans, of Pittsburg, are coaching the boys temporarily. Last night they were given practice at falling on the ball, dodging, catching punts and passing work. The entire

IT TAKES MEN TO MAKE TEAM SAYS FOOTBALL COACH JUNEAU

Coach William Juneau wants more men out for practice, and he wants them out every night. There were two dozen candidates on the field last night, and a number more will report tonight. Juneau is looking for weight, speed and fighting spirit in the men who report. A number of men have been out for practice, but the coach wants a large squad to work with.

Juneau is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he played on the first team. A number of the boys will probably be picked from that school, and every man on the team will be a high school graduate.

The opening game of the season next Saturday with the high school will be played on the gridiron of Washburn field and it is expected that it will be witnessed by a large crowd of the supporters of both schools, but by a large number who want to get a line on the team for the season.

Five new men have come out this week, but the coach has received a uniform for only one of them. Ernest Hawke, a former star on the high school team, weighs 175 lbs and is trying for a place on the first team.

The next coach will hold a meeting with the candidates in the "gym" and talk and talked over football and the situation with them.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY OF PHILANTHROPIST'S DEATH. MANY FLOWING MONUMENTS TO HIS GOOD DEEDS

Today is the second anniversary of the death of Winfield Scott Stratton, the millionaire mine owner and philanthropist, whose death caused such universal sorrow in Colorado.

Mr. Stratton died at his home, 143 North Weber [illegible] on September 14 1902. The remains lay in state in the Mining Exchange building, which was erected by him, and the burial was in Evergreen cemetery.

Besides the Mining Exchange building, postoffice and other business structures in this city and elsewhere in this state, the local street railway system and beautiful Stratton park will remain for years to come as lasting monuments to his name. The bulk of estate is left to found a home for the poor.

STATE CONVENTION

The Republican state convention of Colorado meets in Denver this morning and many local Republicans will be [illegible] in attendance either as delegates or as spectators.

A number of the delegates left yesterday for Denver to be present at pre-convention caucuses for the purpose of discussing the situation [illegible] from other parts of Colorado. The others will go in on early trains this morning. Local Republicans are very [illegible] in favor of the renomination of Governor Peabody and those who are not delegates will go for the purpose of witnessing the demonstration upon his nomination. A number of the Teller county Republicans who were delegates to the conventions in this city yesterday, either went to Denver last evening or will go this morning.

In Spite of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"After all is said and done, there is no medicine of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Tex. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, came to me and said that he had been cured of bowel trouble by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I got a bottle and before I had taken the contents of one bottle I was cured. I always keep this medicine in the house for my children, and I have taken it myself, and I have yet to hear of its failing to do all that is claimed for it. I have recommended it to many people and will continue to do so, for I know it is the best medicine in the world for bowel trouble." For sale by all leading druggists.

SAYS HIGHER EDUCATION IS CHEAPENED WHEN UNIVERSAL

Great English Scholar Takes Exception to the American Methods--Declares That System Aims at the Impossible.

Perkins hall was filled yesterday by students and visitors who had come to hear what Dr. G. P. Mahaffy of Trinity college, Dublin, had to say about American education.

As might be expected, Professor Mahaffy stood as the champion of the old system of education, viz.: Greek, Latin and mathematics. To the old system of "the humanities" as these studies were and sometimes are still called, Dr. Mahaffy would add common logic. As he advocated the teaching of logic he suggested that Americans especially might profit by the latter study, that it would surely do away with the religious, vagaries with which he said the country seemed to be flooded.

He strongly opposed the elective system in colleges, saying that in the first place this system left to the student to elect only things he likes, and secondly education is worth having if the pupil is not compelled to learn something he does not like," said Dr. Mahaffy. "Life is not made up of things we like alone, much must be done that is distasteful. Education is not for the things we learn, but for the character it gives us.

"The young student who is allowed to elect according to his likes, too often has to change his plans as he grows older, hence a great waste of time. Moreover, in the endeavor to provide a great number of subjects for students, many of which properly belong to technical students' schools the uniformity of the educational system of the country is injured. And after all, who is the better judge of the things in education that most benefit the young student, the boy himself, or his parents, or competent teachers?

"It seems to be forgotten in America that higher education is really impossible for a democracy. Make it universal, and you cheapen it. Education demands leisure and naturally confines itself to a minority."

MRS. CASSELL AND HER CHORUS WILL CAMP HERE NEXT SEASON

The Ladies' Entr'acte society, whose [illegible] at the Tavern last Thursday evening created such a favorable impression, will leave the city this morning for Salt Lake city and the coast to fill a series of fifteen engagements.

The members of the society were so pleased with the Pike's Peak region that they deferred their departure as long as possible in order to visit local points of interest. They have decided to make a [illegible] city next summer for a month's sojourn. This society stands [illegible] as a [illegible] of eleven first prizes offered by various Welsh singing societies of the larger cities of the country. Last year [illegible] competed in London [illegible] countries, with most flattering results.

Mrs. Mary E. Cassell is the director of the organization. She is the mother of Mrs. E. F. Greenwood, of 115 Cheyenne road, and is a woman of high attainments. Her success as a director of the Euterpean society and other musical organizations has been favorably commented on by the best critics of the country.

Mrs. Cassell has met a number of the [illegible] while [illegible] and will be [illegible] by [illegible]

TO AVOID FLOOD WATERS THE CITY IS MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

The work of syphoning the water from Pike View reservoir No. 1 to No. 2 was begun yesterday morning by a large force of men under Superintendent Hopkins of the water department.

This section of the main is planned to carry the waters west of Monument creek to the east bank of that stream by a series of inverted syphons, thus avoiding the continual danger of washouts which have been of frequent occurrence in the case of the old flume and pipe lines. The new system will be of the same general character as the one in use at Bear creek.

The present improvements are being installed at a point about two miles north of Colorado Springs and between Pike View reservoirs Nos. 1 and 2. By them the water will be raised about 15 feet through a 12-inch cast iron pipe, itself about 400 feet long. The cost of the improvement will be about $1,000.

The engineers will sink the pipe to bedrock in the stream and thence cover it under a three layer of earth to avoid any possibility of a washout by shoveling as soon as the creek is a little lower the same policy will be pursued at the water main west of Colorado college.

The new policy in regard to carrying the water across the creek has more than meeting significance, as it will mean the removal of the usual annual danger of washouts to the city's north end water supply.
